Good owner!

Doo something pawsitive
for our streams!

1. Scoop the poop.
2. Bag it.
3. Put it in the garbage!

Did you know?

Clark County is home to more than 109,000 dogs, who generate almost 15,000 TONS of poop a year!!

When it rains, the POOP IS WASHED into the nearest storm drain, which leads TO THE NEAREST STREAM or wetland.

Many of our local streams have FECAL BACTERIA levels that exceed clean water standards.

Dog poop is RAW SEWAGE and the bacteria can stick around for months to make people and other pets sick!

PLEASE! Pick up after your pet.

Carry plastic bags in your pocket or tie them to your dog's leash when you go for a walk.

Throw the bag in the garbage (not in your toilet!).

Keep pets on-leash near waterways and sensitive areas.

NEVER wash pet waste down a storm drain. Storm drains carry water and contaminants directly to streams without being treated!

Commit to help our streams...take the Canines for Clean Water pledge!

We Pledge

to help protect our streams by:

1. Picking up after our dogs.
2. Keeping our dogs on-leash in sensitive areas.
3. Spreading this important message to other dog owners in our community!

Fill out the pledge at www.CleanWaterDogs.com and we'll send you a FREE
Canines for Clean Water bandanna!
